22 possess the following firearm(s) while you are working: (include make, model, 23 caliber, serial number, etc.)

24 VIOLATION OF THIS ORDER IS A CRIME

25 You, the Adverse Party, are notified that you can be arrested for violating this order.
26 You can be arrested even if the person who obtained this order invites or allows you to contact
27 him or her. You have the sole responsibility to avoid or refrain from violating the terms of this 28 order. A violation includes but is not limited to contact in the form of verbal, electronic, and social media communications.

You are further notified of the penalty for violation of an order. A person who intentionally violates:

(2) An extended order and:

(a) Who has not previously violated an extended order is guilty of a misdemeanor.

(b) Who has previously violated an extended order one time is guilty of a gross misdemeanor; or

(c) Who has previously violated an extended order two or more times is guilty of a category D felony and shall be punished as provided in NRS 193.130.

Each act that constitutes a violation of the temporary or extended order may be prosecuted as a separate violation of the order. (NRS 33.100)

If you are arrested for violating this order, you will not be admitted to bail sooner than 12 hours after your arrest if:

(1) The arresting officer determines that such a violation is accompanied by a direct or indirect threat of harm;

(2) You have previously violated a temporary or extended order for protection; or

(3) At the time of the violation or within 2 hours after the violation, you have:

(I) A concentration of alcohol of 0.08 or more in your blood or breath; or

(II) An amount of a prohibited substance in your blood or urine, as applicable, that is equal to or greater than the amount set forth in subsection 3 or 4 of NRS 484C.110. (NRS 33.030(5)).

Penalty for violation of a custody order: The abduction, concealment, or detention of a child in violation of this order is punishable as a Category D Felony as provided in NRS 193.130. NRS 200.359 provides that every person having a limited right of custody to a child or any parent having no right of custody to the child who willfully detains, conceals or removes the child from a parent, guardian or other person having lawful custody or a right of visitation of the child in violation of an order of this court, or removes the child from the jurisdiction of the court without the consent of either the court or all persons who have the right to custody or visitation is subject to being punished for a category D felony as provided in NRS 193.130.

Under federal law, this protection order is valid and enforceable in all 50 states, the District of Columbia, U.S. Territories, and Indian Nations (18 USC § 2265.) If you travel across state or tribal land with the intent to injure the Applicant or violate this order and then do so, you may be convicted of committing a federal crime (18 USC § 2261.) Possession, shipment, transportation, or receipt of a firearm or ammunition while this order is in effect may constitute a felony under federal law and is punishable by a fine up of up to $250,000 and/or a prison sentence of up to ten (10) years (18 USC § 922.).

Only the court can change this order.

ORDER TO LAW ENFORCEMENT

(A) Any law enforcement officer who has probable cause to believe a violation of any provision of this order has occurred is ordered to arrest the Adverse Party. Such party is to be charged with a criminal violation of this order, in addition to any other criminal charges that may be justified.

(B) If such law enforcement officer cannot verify that the Adverse Party was served with a copy of the application and order, the officer shall inform the Adverse Party of the following:

(1) the specific terms of this order;

(2) that the Adverse Party now has notice of the provisions of this order;

(3) that a violation of this order will result in the Adverse Party's arrest;

(4) the location of the court that issued the original order and the hours during which the Adverse Party can obtain a copy of this order; and

(5) the date and time set for a hearing on an application for an extended order, if any.

The law enforcement officer shall then provide written proof of notice to the officer's agency and to the court.
